What a miserable mess this wind farm project is going to make. Just the construction of so many of those huge machines is quite enough but then once finished it goes on destroying the environment, killing animals and birds, including our beautiful eagles, and making a visual mess of our fantastic landscape. Does anyone pay any attention to what the local population wants? If our coastal neighbors are so intent on having wind power let them have the machines and put them in the ocean or perhaps Lake Washington. The current over-sight group apparently does not live in our area or care to learn about it. They seem to see only what is most important to them - money.

The adjudication process as I understand it is an important step to either stop the project or permit it to continue. I can only pray that it comes to any end. The good people of this community, which does not include the politicians, do not want this destroying project in our community. I fully support Tri-Cities CARES.

my home is at the base of the horse heaven hills by mcbee grade. I was born and raised in Benton city. my home and all the things i have worked for in my life will certainly be devalued because of this wind turbine project.the negative things about the wind turbines are so many it is ridiculous. f From the beautiful visas being ruined to the impact on the environment not to mention the wind turbines do not solve our clean energy problems. Also a major issue is the fact that the decisions that will impact the local citizens will be made by people who dont live here or really care about this area., and also they are misinformed about the values of wind turbines. I am in total support of tri cities' care efforts.

I am proud to be represented by Tricities Care in regards to the horrible Horse Heaven wind project. Wind and solar represent less than 1% of the total supply in our area. It is not a constant source of electricity and is an environmental nightmare. Plus the windmills destroy the landscape. Between hydroelectric and nuclear at over 80% of the total supply in our area with no CO2 emissions how could you even consider installing inefficient windmills and solar panels. We are truly blessed to have hydro and nuclear. Install these eyesores in Seattle and Portland not in our backyard.

I'm a homeowner in the Tri-Cities area (Richland) adjacent to the area under consideration for installation of a combination wind turbine and solar energy project. I strongly object to its siting in the proposed areas surrounding the Tri-Cities for the following reasons:

1. First and foremost these technologies will not provide energy beneficial to the Tri-Cities area.
2. Construction will create traffic in rural areas on roadways not designed for heavy equipment or high volume traffic, and will increase already unacceptable levels of traffic congestion on local roadways, feeder roads, and main arteries.
3. The components of the wind turbines are not recyclable and thereby violate the "green energy" concept.
4. The components of the wind turbines require chemical lubricants that will leak and contaminate the surrounding soil.
5. The wind turbines are unsightly; they ruin the beautiful skyline/horizon, and the blinking red lights are distractive.
6. The wind turbines are noisy, which will significantly impact adjacent residential areas.
7. The wind turbines are dangerous to birds.

To whom it may concern, I have been supporting various groups in the Tri Cities area to fight the construction of a wind and solar farm in the Horse Heaven Hills south of the Tri Cities in the state of Washington.

I am very knowledgeable about the capability of the wind turbines and solar systems, the performance, the cost of construction and maintenance. I am also aware of the negative impact that a project like this will have on our community.

In the Tri Cities area, we have all the clean, cheap power we need now and in the future. Building a project like the one envisioned is of no value to the inhabitants of our area.

I will continue to fight this project until it is canceled. There are a number of local groups that are opposed to this project and I support their efforts.

Ms. Bumpus,

We support the effort that the Tri-Cities CARES group is expending in their opposition to the proposed Wind Project. We are some of the fortunate residents in this area that have a panoramic view of the surrounding hills which includes the Horse Heaven Hills in the background. We do not want that view destroyed by the presence of countless rotating wind turbines generating questionable power, most likely not even for the benefit of the local residents, but to be transmitted via the Western Interconnecting Grid to customers 100's of miles away.

Hello EFSEC Director Sonia Bumpus –

Regarding the HHH (Horse Heaven Hills) wind project, the Tri-Cities CARES (TCC) and Save Our Horse Heaven Hills movement:

- First and foremost – I am Against the HHH Wind Farm Project in all its myriad of aspects.
- I fully Support the efforts of the Tri-Cities CARES (TCC) group.
- My name is Patrick D. Grengs II.
- I am the Owner of 40 Acres of land in West Richland located Southwest of Harrington Road:
 - See attached image file:
BentonCountyGIS_Sandhill_ArgentumMatsonColorBoundaries_20181028v3
 - The satellite image was taken a few years prior to installing the center pivot irrigation and growing of 25 acres of corn / alfalfa.
 - I currently own the 40 acres as depicted with the Red boundary.
 - I used to own the 35 acre parcel (Orange boundary) and sold this to local real estate developer Titan Homes (June 2020).
 - The 40 acres include 12 acres of CID water rights.
 - A portion of the 40 acres is presently being used for the cultivation of alfalfa.

- The alfalfa crop is part of a business partnership with Garth Hatch, my neighbor who owns 31 acres just south of my 40 acres.
- Plans include the eventual construction of a personal home on my property.
- I am also looking at selling a portion of these 40 acres to a local home developer, given a good sale price.
- The Effects that the HHH Wind Project will have on my property:
 - Destruction of over 120 degrees of view, essentially the entire view to the West of my Sandhill property.
 - Reduced value of my property to any future buyer / developer in terms of the despoiled landscape.
 - The wind turbines will generate long shadow flicker for the miles of property that they impact.
 - It is also well known that wind turbines change the climate by altering the surface air temperatures during the day (cooling) and night (heating).
 - Wind patterns will be impacted because of this huge installation and can have damaging effects on the local crops in terms of precipitation patterns.
 - There will also be the expected noise pollution because of all the moving parts.
 - The winking red lights will despoil the quiescence of the Tri-Cities night.
- There are additional negative impacts that will result if the HHH wind project is implemented:
 - All wind power must be supplemented by hot-standby power (typically natural gas plants).
 - The turbines have an expected life of 15 years (despite the PR material that shows 25 years for the amortization).
 - There will be constant maintenance required for the moving parts on these huge unnecessary wastes of resources.
 - The blades will need to be replaced after 15 years and there is no effective means to recycle the wind blades (they typically end up in landfills located in low-population counties).
 - Washington State already has over 70% of its electrical power provided by safe, quiet, green, paid-for hydroelectric plants.
 - It is interesting that Washington State politicians insist that hydro-power is not green – this designation has been made so that the highly subsidized wind farms can be installed at great cost both economically and environmentally.
 - The wind turbines are a so-called solution to a problem that does not exist – we have safe and effective green power already. More importantly, CO₂ is not a pollutant, it is a necessary ingredient for plant growth.
 - The natural resources and costs to mine the materials, fabricate, ship and install the turbines, maintain and decommission them exceeds the sum of the intermittent power that they generate over their lifetime.
 - The 2500 tons of concrete at the base of a 2MW baseplate turbine (one of the typical turbines with a 200' tower and 100' blades) requires 600,000 pounds of cement – just the creation of that cement generates ~300 tons of CO₂. This does not even include the costs for the rebar, forms, transportation and installation of the concrete base. The much larger turbines in the HHH project will require significantly more materials and generate a far greater amount of CO₂ (so much for the clean-and-green claims for wind turbines).

- In Summary: I see the HHH wind project as both a criminal waste of resources and the application of unnecessary technology that will destroy the beauty and value of property owned by individuals throughout the Tri-Cities.

Respectfully submitted,

Patrick D. Grengs II / Land owner and farmer of 40 acres in West Richland, Washington

It has come to my attention that you are needing "proof" with regards to the fantastic job that Tri-Cities CARES organization has been providing to our community. On my behalf, they are doing their best to keep that wind farm out of my back yard.

We've been instructed to contact you if we have further comments about the Wind turbines in the Horse Heaven Hills. The Homeowners all along the Clodfelter Road are vehemently are AGAINST the Wind Turbines!!!!
THEY WILL DRIVE OUR PROPERTY VALUES DOWN ON OUR HOMES, cause concentration problems in our brains, kill WILDLIFE, destroy the roads we travel on, rape our beautiful landscapes, devalue our HYDROPOWER and MAKE OUR BACKYARD LOOK LIKE A METAL JUNKYARD!!! What are you thinking??? DO NOT ERECT USELESS WIND TURBINES IN OUR COMMUNITY!!!
Even the "BOEM", Bureau of Energy Management says, "Wind turbine production, construction, and operating COST negates ANY CARBON SAVINGS!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

If we have a smaller voting population and the West side of Wa. State needs more electricity for the "Green Energy Community", put your wind turbines on the West Coast!!!

Electricians in our area, have told us the infrastructure for Electric Auto Charging Stations, are not developed over here. Energy Facility Siting Evaluation Council,

We are writing to express our concerns about the proposed Horse Heaven Hills Wind/Solar project and adjudication.

This unprecedented project is the largest proposed wind farm in the state of Washington to date. Up to 244, 499-foot-high wind turbines are planned to occupy an area over 25 miles across and approximately 8 miles wide, straddling ridgelines of the Horse Heaven Hills directly in sight of the cities of Benton City, West Richland, Richland, Kennewick, Pasco and Finley.

We have serious concerns about the disproportionate impacts the project will have on Southeastern Washington, as there are over 100,000 people who live within six miles of the project. This is more visible and orders of magnitude larger than any other wind project in the state.

Significant concerns about the project and the adjudication process have been raised by Benton County, the Yakama Nation, and by Tri-Cities CARES, a local non-profit organization that is doing a noteworthy job representing the diverse interests of the public.

Chair Drew has denied requests from the parties to conduct the hearings in the Tri-Cities and in spite of grave concerns about fairness and prejudice, has directed that the venue for the adjudication be held virtually. We do not believe this decision to be appropriate given the nature and magnitude of the impacts this project will have on the citizens of the region.

EFSEC has accelerated the adjudication process without letting the public know how they are going to address the 2,400 public comments that were sent in by the public, many of which pointed to substantial errors, omissions and misrepresentation made in the Draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS).

To date EFSEC has not yet released a target date for the publication of a final EIS nor explained how they propose to mitigate the significant impacts posed by the proposed project.

We are also troubled that WDFW biologists are being prevented from transparently sharing their scientific knowledge regarding the ferruginous hawk and other endangered species. EFSEC is apparently placing limitations on the testimony of public employees who work for a public agency on a public matter all paid with public money. Ferruginous hawks do not belong to the project applicant and for EFSEC to be anything less than transparent and objective regarding the freedom of these employees to testify and share their knowledge is not acceptable.

Energy facilities of this magnitude are normally sited in rural areas. The Tri-Cities is the second most populous urban area in eastern Washington with a population of approximately 300K. Arbitrarily siting the Horse Heaven Hills project above the urban area of the Tri-Cities sets a concerning precedent.

Given the magnitude of the project and the number of people impacted, EFSEC must take great care to fulfill its duties and obligations in a thorough, intentional, and impartial manner. We are not confident that this is being considered.

This process illustrates everything that is wrong when giving legislative authority to EFSEC to override local land use decision-making, and to adjudicate issues prior to the finalization of an environmental impact statement (EIS).

The Horse Heaven Hills project is too big, with negative impacts on the urban community of the Tri-Cities to disregard local concerns.

For this reason, we request that EFSEC exercise extreme care and prudence to openly assure that the project can be quantitatively shown to minimize environment impacts, produce substantial, tangible benefits to those communities, and satisfy the renewable energy needs of the State of Washington in a rational and reliable manner.

Sonia,

I'm writing to you in support of our local community "TRI-CITIES CARES" group that is representing our family as residents of the Tri-Cities region. Tri-Cities Cares has been doing a fabulous job helping to represent us in the Horse Heaven Wind Project adjudication process. I want to confirm our support for their intervention in this process.

When this request was put out for public opinion regarding the Horse Heaven Wind Project, it was rejected by so many residents in our area. We love our landscape and we know there are so many other ways to have Green Energy without scarring our beautiful Hills with these monstrosities! I drive through the Gorge quite often, and it breaks my heart seeing how the beauty of that area has been marred by the huge Wind Turbines....and the majority of them aren't even recyclable! Why, in this day and age of Green Energy technology...do we allow things to be made that aren't recyclable, cause damage to migratory birds and wildlife, and worse of all, damage our Earth.

I'm sure you've heard all this before Sonia. Please know that I'm completely behind Tri-Cities Cares representing our region.

Thanks for reading,

We support the effort that the Tri-Cities CARES group is expending in their opposition to the proposed Wind Project. We are some of the fortunate residents in this area that have a panoramic view of the surrounding hills which includes the Horse Heaven Hills in the background. We do not want that view destroyed by the presence of countless rotating wind turbines generating questionable power, most likely not even for the benefit of the local residents, but to be transmitted via the Western Interconnecting Grid to customers 100's of miles away.

Hello EFSEC Director Sonia Bumpus –

Regarding the HHH (Horse Heaven Hills) wind project, the Tri-Cities CARES (TCC) and Save Our Horse Heaven Hills movement:

- First and foremost – I am Against the HHH Wind Farm Project in all its myriad of aspects.
- I fully Support the efforts of the Tri-Cities CARES (TCC) group.
- My name is Patrick D. Grengs II.
- I am the Owner of 40 Acres of land in West Richland located Southwest of Harrington Road:
 - See attached image file:
BentonCountyGIS_Sandhill_ArgentumMatsonColorBoundaries_20181028v3
 - The satellite image was taken a few years prior to installing the center pivot irrigation and growing of 25 acres of corn / alfalfa.
 - I currently own the 40 acres as depicted with the Red boundary.
 - I used to own the 35 acre parcel (Orange boundary) and sold this to local real estate developer Titan Homes (June 2020).
 - The 40 acres include 12 acres of CID water rights.
 - A portion of the 40 acres is presently being used for the cultivation of alfalfa.
 - The alfalfa crop is part of a business partnership with Garth Hatch, my neighbor who owns 31 acres just south of my 40 acres.
 - Plans include the eventual construction of a personal home on my property.
 - I am also looking at selling a portion of these 40 acres to a local home developer, given a good sale price.
- The Effects that the HHH Wind Project will have on my property:
 - Destruction of over 120 degrees of view, essentially the entire view to the West of my Sandhill property.
 - Reduced value of my property to any future buyer / developer in terms of the despoiled landscape.
 - The wind turbines will generate long shadow flicker for the miles of property that they impact.
 - It is also well known that wind turbines change the climate by altering the surface air temperatures during the day (cooling) and night (heating).
 - Wind patterns will be impacted because of this huge installation and can have damaging effects on the local crops in terms of precipitation patterns.

- There will also be the expected noise pollution because of all the moving parts.
- The winking red lights will despoil the quiescence of the Tri-Cities night.
- There are additional negative impacts that will result if the HHH wind project is implemented:
 - All wind power must be supplemented by hot-standby power (typically natural gas plants).
 - The turbines have an expected life of 15 years (despite the PR material that shows 25 years for the amortization).
 - There will be constant maintenance required for the moving parts on these huge unnecessary wastes of resources.
 - The blades will need to be replaced after 15 years and there is no effective means to recycle the wind blades (they typically end up in landfills located in low-population counties).
 - Washington State already has over 70% of its electrical power provided by safe, quiet, green, paid-for hydroelectric plants.
 - It is interesting that Washington State politicians insist that hydro-power is not green – this designation has been made so that the highly subsidized wind farms can be installed at great cost both economically and environmentally.
 - The wind turbines are a so-called solution to a problem that does not exist – we have safe and effective green power already. More importantly, CO₂ is not a pollutant, it is a necessary ingredient for plant growth.
 - The natural resources and costs to mine the materials, fabricate, ship and install the turbines, maintain and decommission them exceeds the sum of the intermittent power that they generate over their lifetime.
 - The 2500 tons of concrete at the base of a 2MW baseplate turbine (one of the typical turbines with a 200' tower and 100' blades) requires 600,000 pounds of cement – just the creation of that cement generates ~300 tons of CO₂. This does not even include the costs for the rebar, forms, transportation and installation of the concrete base. The much larger turbines in the HHH project will require significantly more materials and generate a far greater amount of CO₂ (so much for the clean-and-green claims for wind turbines).
- In Summary: I see the HHH wind project as both a criminal waste of resources and the application of unnecessary technology that will destroy the beauty and value of property owned by individuals throughout the Tri-Cities.

Respectfully submitted,

Patrick D. Grengs II / Land owner and farmer of 40 acres in West Richland, Washington

Dear Director Sonia Bumpus,

I support Tri Cities Cares, and honor their efforts to stop the construction of Wind Turbines.

I am not in favor of Scout Clean Energy's proposed construction of a major wind farm on the ridges of the Horse Heaven Hills. I own a 200 acre farm that borders the base of the HHH where turbines are proposed to be erected. I worry this could lower the value of my property, especially in years to come with urban growth. The flashing lights, the constant thumping of blades, distorting the most beautiful, quite, relaxing, God given serenity of nature, to be sacrificed to the monstrous eyesores (for decades to come), is plain heartbreaking. Truly I worry most about the wildlife its self.

Currently this spring, (now, as I write this) we have two baby Great Horned owls, a family of American Kestrels just born a week ago, a nest of newly born Magpies, along with the just hatched tiny little Killdeer birds, along with a nest of Starlings born a couple weeks ago. Not to mention the Robins, the Cooper Hawks and new family of Coyotes.

I was strongly approached by Scout Clean Energy when they first came to our community in 2020 hunting for a pathway to transport the turbines power to the power grid. After Council and much thought, I decided this was not in my interest and ran from their offers. It is not, in my opinion in the best interest of our community. This community will for decades be giving up the most gorgeous beauty of our Horse Heaven Hills. May I also interate, we don't need this extra bit of power. We have abundance of hydro power, clean nuclear power and solar power. Again, these turbines are for the greed of Scout Clean Energy, their investors, and Cities and States far from our community.

PLEASE SAY NO. If they go up, all I can say to all involved, "SHAME."

With Sincerely,
Barbara Buckmaster

This message is to voice our support for Tri Cities Cares and their efforts to save our Horse Heaven Hills. Their efforts which started with a small group of concerned citizens has grown increasingly important to protect our quality of life here in Eastern Washington. We totally support the work of TCC not only in theory but we have also supported them with a generous donation. We seldom donate to causes such as this but we feel this is a very important effort to protect the future of our environment.

The Horse Heaven Hills wind turbine project will provide very little, if any, benefit for our community. Any economic benefits will be short lived and energy benefits will not be felt locally whatsoever. Instead, we will be left with an eyesore that will impact property values and harm precious wildlife.

We are proud to support Tri Cities Cares and wish them much success going forward.

As a 25 year resident of Kennewick, WA, I fully support the Tri Cities CARES organization representing myself, my family and the citizens of Benton County, WA opposing the poorly sited and unwanted Horse Heaven Hills Wind and Solar Farm.

The Tri-Cities would be negatively impacted by the construction of such a large scale solar & wind farm so close to so many residential homes as well as the negative impact on wildlife and migratory patterns of many bird species. I completely trust TCC to represent us as residents of the Tri-Cities in their continued efforts of opposition to this project.

Ms Bumpus and EFSEC Committee,

I have interacted a number of times with the Tri-Cities CARES group and believe they have been doing an exceptional job of representing our local communities in the Horse Heaven Wind Project adjudication process. We want to confirm our support for their intervention in the process.

Respectfully,
