As a lifetime resident of badger mountain i am able to speak on the vast biodiversity that we experience up here. Destroying the environment that the wildlife lives in would be a massive detriment to the population of many different creatures that call this mountain their home. I understand the desire for green energy but a significant portion of this state is already powered by existing hydroelectric dams and these solar farms are significantly less efficient than what already exists. Sacrificing our wildlife and leeching chemicals into our runoff where we all mostly share in the same water table does not make sense.
